Call for papers (Working Paper Series, BRU-IUL)

SHARE

BRU-IUL's working paper series is a tool for dissemination and discussion of early versions of your scientific papers. The papers submitted are subject to a single-blind review by an expert in the paper's field (usually, but not always, another BRU-IUL researcher), with the aim of improving its quality and chances of getting accepted in indexed peer-reviewed scientific journals.

We call on all BRU-IUL's researchers and PhD students to consider our WP series for submission of working papers within the center's research fields:

- Economics
- Finance
- Financial and Management Accounting
- Management and Strategy
- Marketing
- Modelling in Business and Economics
- Organizational Behavior & Human Resources
- Research Methods

Societal Impact Highlight Series

SHARE

BRU-IUL will start the New Year by launching The Societal Impact Highlights featuring a series of academic studies carried by its researchers that have made an influence within society. The Societal Impact Highlights series aims to draw attention to the importance of research on the society that we live in. These examples will reach you over the next months.

Now, we wish you a pleasant reading!
